SUMMARY

I love programming. It's my passion.

From starting out with C# and the .NET Framework in college to get my MCSD certification to learning to develop web applications with the MEAN stack and Laravel, I have enjoyed every minute of my 2+ year journey but my hunger for programming is still not satisfied.

All I'm looking for is more and more knowledge, Programming is not something I want to be 'good' at, I want to be great.
